ARMS:*Argent a cross moline gules in I a torteaux

CREST: A griffins head and wings endorsed sable

The family of Sir William Dugdale, the celebrated antiquary, sprang from the borough of Clitheroe, and by inquisition, post mortem, 33 Elizabeth [1590/1] Edmund Dugdale is found possessed of messuages and lands in Clitherowe. John, the father of sir William Dugdale, was matriculated at St John's college, Oxford, by the name of "John Dugdale, a Lancashire man borne". On quitting college, he sold his property in Clitheroe, and settled at Shustoke, in Warwickshire ... [BAINES III 211]
